BOOKMOBILE TO BE HERE NEXT THURSDAY

BY MRS. E. C. SAMUEL

Children say that the turtle is a lucky reptile because it can travel with its house on its back. And Miss

France, pretty driver of Mississippi's new Bookmobile, says that she is a lucky woman, because she can drive all over the state in an ambulating library. And I say that YOU are lucky because next Thursday you are invited to visit Miss France in her fascinating library on wheels.

In case you don't know what this is all about, the Bookmobile is an extremely attractive, very large van, fitted up with bookshelves and other paraphernalia and carrying, every three months, thousands of books to people who otherwise would have no access to a library. Although Bay St. Louis has its own small library, it would not have access to one tenth of the volumes it needs if it were not for the Bookmobile. So on Thursday, March 5, take advantage of this opportunity and go on a sightseeing excursion. The bookmobile will be parked in front of the Gulf Chevrolet, between ten and eleven o'clock in the morning and you will enjoy browsing through its contents.

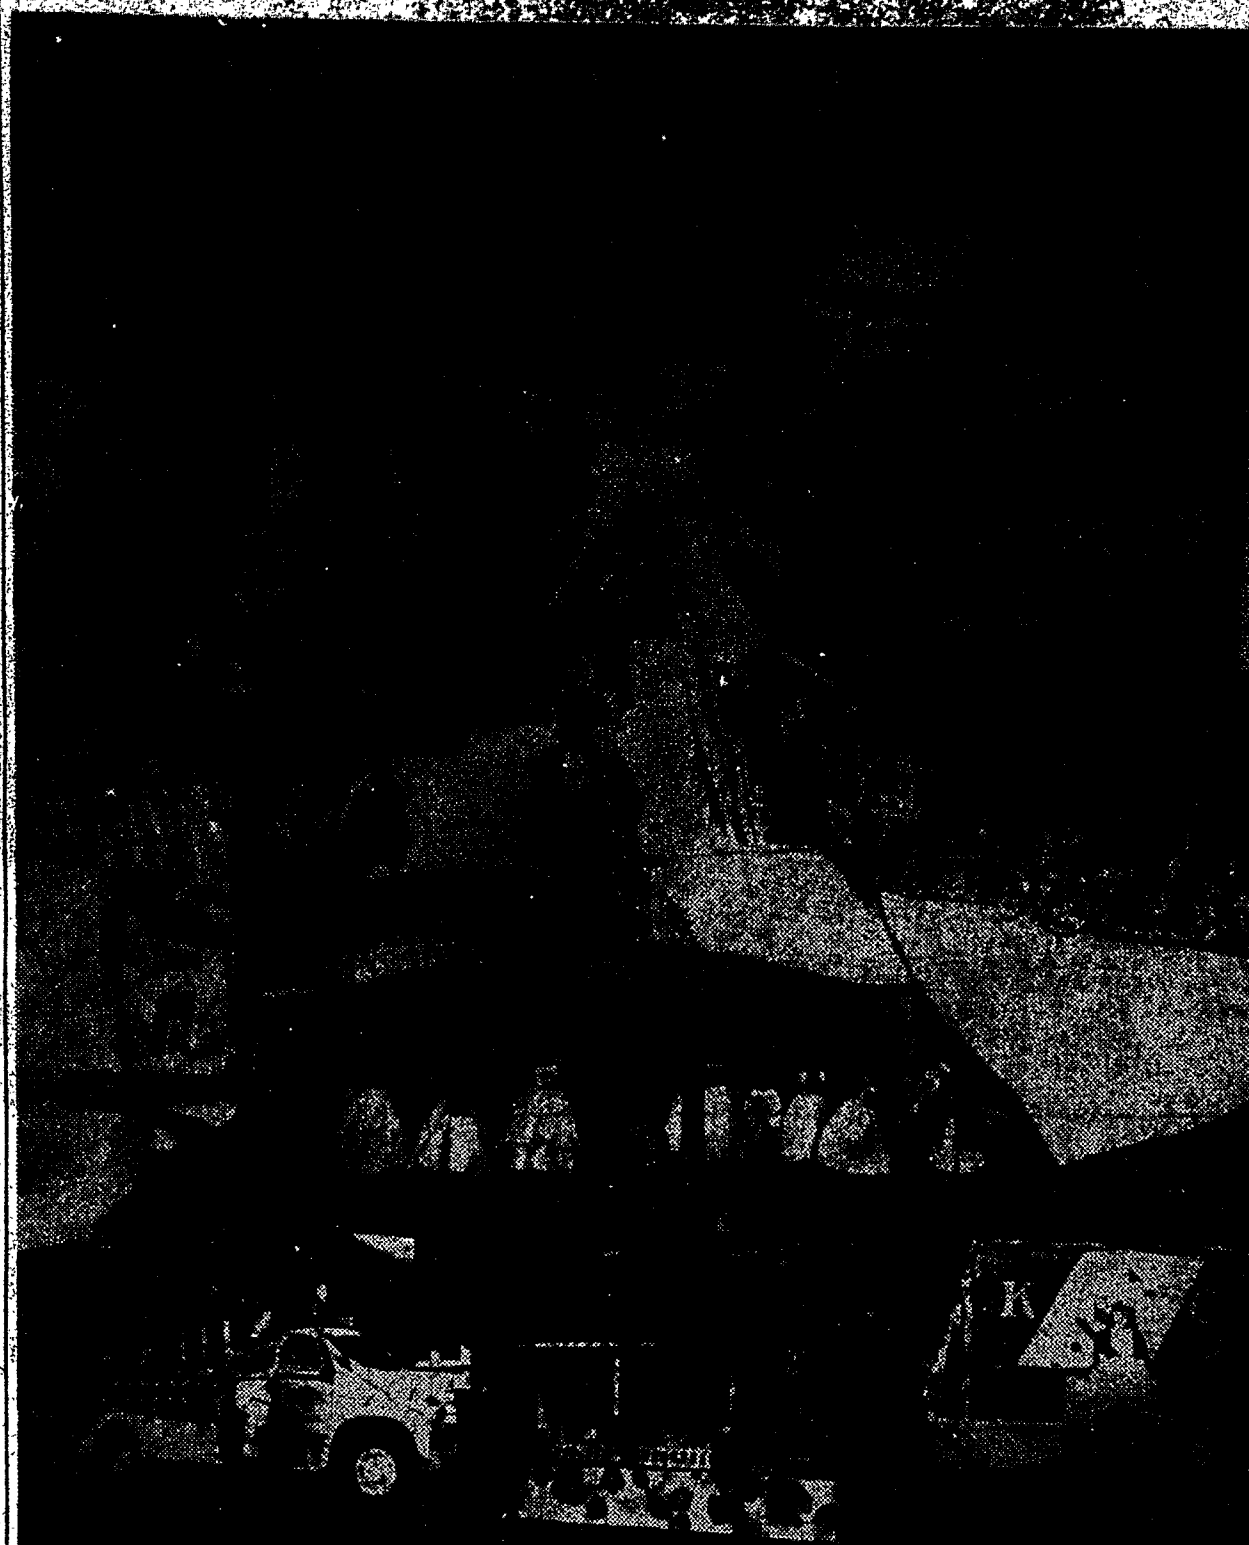

WELL UNDER WAY FOR YOUTH CENTER AT KILN

Plans for a new youth center at Kiln are well under way. The estimated cost of $15,000, plus $5,000 for equipment. Facilities for all forms of recreation are planned, including motion pictures, skating, dancing, ping pong and other indoor games. Outdoor recreation facilities will complete the center's plans.

Brother Walter of the Missionary Society of the Most Holy Trinity, attached to St. Joseph's Shrine, Starling, N. J., has been in the area for the last 60 days assisting Father Charles and Ernest in getting this worthwhile project underway.

A drive for funds is now being conducted, and it is hoped that construction can be started soon after May 1.

Ridding Bay St. Louis of mosquitoes was one of the major topics discussed at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Wednesday evening, Feb. 18.

The cooperation of the citizens of the town will be required if the mosquito-spraying project is successful, it was pointed out.

Many civic projects were discussed at the meeting, at which President O. W. Delph presided.

The new membership pleasure of the Chamber of Commerce will be mailed to members in the very near future, it was said.

PETITION COUNCIL TO PREVENT ERECTION OF BUILDING ON BEACH

A petition, signed by approximately 163 persons was presented to the Commission Council at a special meeting called Monday at 9 a. m. at the City Hall.

The meeting was called for the purpose of allowing a discussion on the proposed Frozen Dairy Products Building, for which a permit had been granted by the Commission Council, to be located on North Beach on a portion of the site of the former Tournes property, brought forth a barrage of indignation from residents of the Beach and adjoining properties.

About sixty-five people were present at the meeting. Spokesman for the signers of the petition was Paul Gaudet, who resides at 634 N. Beach.

Dan Russell, City Attorney, represented the Commission Council, and Robert Genin represented his client, Wilson Weber, present owner of the property under discussion.

Russell addressed the group on the present zoning ordinances. It was suggested that more consideration should be given zoning and that more rigid zoning ordinances should be put into effect by the Council.

An agreement was reached in which Gaudet, Genin and Russell should confer in an effort to make an amicable adjustment on the issue.

MRS FAYARD HONORED UPON RETIREMENT BY S. BELL TELEPHONE CO.

Mrs. Lillian Ladner Fayard received many honors Wednesday, Feb. 18 at a party commemorating her service as the only person in the employ of the local Southern Bell Telephone Co. to work steadily to reach full retirement. The many years of her employment were spent in the Bay St. Louis office, where she served as an operator.

Mrs. Fayard was presented with a framed Pioneer Life Membership Certificate, presented by J. A. Bethune, President of the Magnolia Gulf Chapter. She also was presented with a star-shaped retirement pin set with eight diamonds. The presentation was made by W. R. Gardner, District Traffic Manager from Hattiesburg. Other guests for the afternoon from Hattiesburg were C. C. McGinnis, District Commercial Manager, and Wm. Motherhead, Plant Department, retired.

Mrs. Alcide L. James, Chief Operator, Bay St. Louis, pinned her sister, Mrs. Fayard, with a lovely orchid.

The presentation party was held in the women's club room of the local Telephone Company. The table was adorned with a centerpiece of spring flowers and a large green cake trimmed in white, with "Congratulations Lil" written on it.

Members of the immediate family and co-workers were the only guests present with the exception of the out-of-town representatives of the company.

A shower of gifts from her fellow workers and many subscribers were bestowed on Mrs. Fayard for her years of faithful service.

beginning of a five-day pilgrimage to the Gulf Coast, which will be served to residents as well as visitors.

This annual affair, called the Spring Pilgrimage, is sponsored by the Gulf Coast Council of German Clubs and is one of the most popular of the various Bay St. Louis events. It is a pilgrimage to the pilgrimage grounds, the Louisiana and other Mississippi Delta.

The Spring Pilgrimage is the last time in the year which permits guests to roam at will about private gardens and to enjoy refreshments at some of the ante-bellum homes, as well as the hospitality of genial hosts and hostesses along the Coast.

This year the pilgrimage begins in Bay St. Louis with a coffee hour at 10 a. m. on March 3 with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brignac as hosts. The recreation house on the grounds of the Brignac home is an ideal spot for such an affair and the spacious gardens will be included in this part of the tour.

The Walter Hays gardens, listed second on the tour, will include a veritable "Shangri La" at the end of a narrow passage across a bridge. The garden has countless species of camellias, iris, amaryllis, in addition to an outdoor tea patio. The house, one of rustic shingles, adds to the attractiveness of the whole picture.

The luncheon, to be held at the Yacht Club between 12 noon and 1:30 p. m., will bring together the participants in the tour to an excellent meal and a few moments of relaxation before a visit to the famous gardens of St. Augustine's Seminary. At the Seminary a choral group, comprised of students of the college, will sing spirituals while the prize camellias and the interesting shrine are viewed. Anyone who has heard the students sing knows what excellent entertainment is in store, and visitors will not want to miss such rare style.

From the Seminary the route will continue to Darwood-on-the-Jourdan, the magnificent gardens of Dr. Emmett Irwin. This beautiful estate, though last on the tour, must not be underestimated. Covering acres of ground are resplendent azaleas, along with winding paths, camellias, iris and numerous species of varying plants. The house is situated on a bluff overlooking the Jourdan River.

The picnic recreation house on the grounds adds greatly to the picturesque setting. A visit to the Coast is incomplete without a trip to Darwood-on-the-Jourdan where Dr. Irwin is always present to offer his genial hospitality.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club is grateful to these citizens who so unselfishly and faithfully open their homes and their hearts to the public on such occasions and without whose generous assistance the Bay area could not carry on its share of the pilgrimage.

Reservations for the luncheon must be made not later than March 1, through Mrs. Leo Seal, phone 164, or Mrs. Charles Beyer, phone 437. A nominal fee will be made for the luncheon, otherwise the entertainment is free of charge.

On the five days following the program will continue through Ocean Springs, with one day each assigned to Pass Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport, Biloxi, and Ocean Springs.

From 11:00 to noon the pilgrimage will tour "The Oaklands," a year-old new-type ranch house of Mr. and Mrs. Al Voight, on Nicholson Avenue and Kiln Road.

The grounds feature ornamental entrance gates front and rear. Visitors will view approximately 300 camellias including 86 varieties of various sizes. Also several hundred azaleas, palms, bamboo, mimosa, and various ornamental shrubs and plants under large live oaks.

PAINTINGS ARE EXHIBITED

Twenty-seven paintings by a Mississippi artist and a display lent by the Museum of Modern Art in New York are in dual exhibition at the Mississippi State College for Women during February.

Ralph M. Hudson, art director, gave an illustrated lecture on "What is Modern Painting?" using color slides provided by the New York museum.

Mrs. Tina Mason of Meridian is the state artist whose paintings are being removed all dead and damaged limbs. Pruning young trees more severely than you do pruning trees. This will train them to develop a well-balanced shape and strong firm wood of properly selected branches. Be sure to keep all "suckers" or low limbs removed.

Be sure that you clean up and burn all material. About trees. Then spray for control of San Jose scale.

Spray peach, plum and apple with one part of oil emulsion mixed in 20 parts of water. One thorough application each year while the trees are dormant will keep this pest under control. Do not use oil emulsion that has frozen or has free oil on top. Spray trees only when the temperature is above freezing.

There is still time to prune bunch grapes and muscadines. These need heavy pruning each year to insure high quality fruit and to keep the vines from being weakened or killed. Pruning is produced from buds on one-year-old canes.

This is the last call for planting fruit trees and grape vines. These can still be safely planted if planting is done within the next three weeks. March is an excellent time to plant strawberries, youngberries and boysenberries.

FISH POND FERTILIZATION

Fish do not eat fertilizer. The fertilizer feeds tiny plants that feed small animals and insects in the water. The fish feed on these insects and animals.

Your farm fish pond will produce from six to eight times as many fish if you fertilize it. A one-acre pond, properly fertilized, will produce 300 to 400 pounds of fish per year. Kind of fertilizer. Use 100 pounds of 8-8-4 (NPK) for each surface acre each time you fertilize.

When to Fertilize. Begin fertilizing in March or April and continue until October. Repeat application each week until the water looks green or brownish. After water begins to look brown or green, fertilize only when water is clear about one foot down. It may be necessary to fertilize your farm pond from six to 12 times during the year.

How to fertilize. Either broadcast fertilizer from shore or pour slowly from moving boat. The action of waves will spread the fertilizer.

Some Don'ts. Don't fertilize in winter. Don't fail to fish your pond "a plenty." Don't fertilize a pond that stays muddy. Don't fertilize a pond that has water running through it at all times.

PASTURES

The last few days in February and the first two weeks of March is the time to plant lespedeza.

Plant lespedeza on cereal crops where no clover is growing. This can be used for grazing or hay. Where Johnson grass has been cut for hay or grazed down in another good place for lespedeza. This is used mostly for hay. Lespedeza can also be planted on sod land of Dallas, Bermuda or other summer grasses.

Called by some Mississippi's equivalent to Grandma Moses, Mrs. Mason is one of the modern painters, misnamed "primitive," whose work is based on intuition rather than formal training.

Two kinds of money supply
 Mississippi Telephone Service

It takes one kind of money to operate and maintain existing telephone facilities in Mississippi, while money of another kind is required to enable us to keep improving our facilities and expanding them to meet the growing needs of the State.

The money paid us by customers for service is "operating money" and is used to pay the day-by-day operating costs such as wages, salaries, taxes, maintenance and the like.

The money required and used for expanding our facilities—construction of buildings and lines, and installation of central office equipment comes from investors... people who are willing to invest their savings in the telephone business. We must pay a fair return for the use of their money.

In order to continue to provide good service and to expand in response to the demand for more telephones, it is essential that the telephone company be financially sound.

Wages and Purchases Help Mississippi

Southern Bell paid its 4450 Mississippi employees over 15 million dollars last year and more millions of dollars were spent in the state for supplies, materials and contract labor—all adding to Mississippi's prosperity.

Fight Rabies Outbreak In South Mississippi

State and county officials took steps to curb a threatened outbreak of rabies in south Mississippi.

The state health department urged the immunization of all dogs after a survey showed 12 persons in the area are undergoing treatment after having been bitten by rabid dogs and foxes.

It suggested that stray dogs be picked up and destroyed.

The State Game and Fish Commission sent experts into the field to determine how great the spread of the disease is among foxes and to cooperate with individual counties in destruction campaigns.

In Pearl River County officers borrowed dogs from fox hunters to track down and kill rabid animals.

Farmer John Lumpkin said cattlemen and farmers in that county are afraid to go unarmed into their fields "for fear of attack by the maddened animals."

During the 1951-52 school terms, the department said, 4,634 buses traveled more than 25 million miles in Mississippi.
